

VANGUARD OF ALUMNI
HERE FOR THE GAME

Afternoon Trains Bring Many, But Real Crowd Is Expected Later.

HOTELS ARE FILLED

Big Parade Tomorrow Rain or Shine—Many Tickets for Dance Sold.

More Rooms Needed.

In order to take care of the Homecoming crowd it will be necessary for many Columbia homes to be opened to the visitors. All persons who can accommodate one or more visitors are urged to call either the Y.M.C.A. or the Commercial Club and register their rooms. Early this afternoon the vanguard of the 1,000 out of town visitors was arriving and applications for rooms were already coming into the Y. M. C. A.

More than two hundred alumni and former students arrived this afternoon on the Washburn for the Tiger-Cornhusker game tomorrow. The new arrivals were given a rousing welcome by a crowd of students who had waited for the train, which was late, to arrive.

This afternoon's crowd is merely the forerunner of the real army that is expected for the game. Several times as many more are expected to-night and tomorrow.

A special train will leave St. Louis tonight on the Washburn and will arrive here tomorrow. The train will carry sleepers for the benefit of the alumni. The railroad will also run a special train from Kansas City tonight. Shannon C. Douglass, secretary of the Kansas City Alumni Association has sent out 500 train cards to members.

At the hotels preparations were being made for the accommodation of visitors who have not made reservations. The Daniel Boone Tavern will put up hundreds of cots for temporary accommodations. Fraternity houses and rooming houses are also crowded to capacity.

Many persons who were planning to motor in to the game from the nearer towns of the state have been obliged to change their plans because of the poor condition of the roads.

Will March, Rain or Shine.

Rain or shine, the big Homecoming Parade, made up of 2,000 persons and more than thirty floats, will march at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Those who will take part in the parade will fall in at 9:30 on Hudson and Rollins streets, alphabetically according to schools. The parade will march later than was planned at first because the mass meeting to have been held at the Columns will not be held, because of difficulty the committee encountered in obtaining speakers. David R. Francis, Governor Gardner and William G. McAdoo were invited, but all were forced to decline.

The itinerary of the parade has been changed slightly. The revised line of march is as follows: north over College avenue to Broadway, west on Broadway to Sixth street, south on Sixth street to Conley, east on Conley to Hitt street, thence south to Rollins and east on Rollins to College, where the parade will disband.

Floats Added to Parade.

There have been several recent additions to the parade line-up. The lawyers and the Y. W. C. A. will have a float each, the College of Arts and Science will have three floats and the medical and the education students will also participate in the parade. The commerce students will have six autolands of students in the line-up.

W. B. ("Bottles") Burruss of Kansas City and George C. Willson of St. Louis, president of the student body for 1913-14, will speak at the Homecoming Mass Meeting tonight in the University Auditorium.

The Homecoming Hop, which Fred Eldean, chairman of the Homecoming committee, says will be a veritable land of jazz, will be held in Rothwell Gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night. Mr. Eldean said this morning that the tickets for the dance are selling well.

RESERVATION VICTORY

Republicans Hold Vote Means Success to the Party Program.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Treaty opponents were victorious in the first vote on reservations to the treaty today.

A motion to strike from the preamble a provision requiring the assent of three Allies to reservations was beaten 48 to 40. Republicans held the vote as indicative that their reservation program would be successful.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—After the conference with President Wilson, Senator Hitchcock, democratic leader, declared his forces would vote against reservations to the Peace Treaty, if certain Republican reservations were attached to it.

Wilson, Hitchcock said, would be entirely satisfied with any reservations which he favors, and which would not nullify the League of Nations.

The President expressed pleasure at the defeat of the amendments to the treaty.

BREAKS UP FARMERS' MEETING

Attempt to Lynch Non-Partisan Speaker, But Get Wrong Man.

By United Press.

STAFFORD, Kan., Nov. 7.—A raid on a Non-Partisan League meeting here last night, at which E. Wood, an organizer, was making an address, nearly developed into a lynching.

A mob entered the room from front and rear, with the evident intention of taking Wood. The audience seeing the plan, rushed them. Wood was saved from the crowd. J. O. McFadden, a farmer, said to be a member of the league, was on the platform. He was seized and taken from the meeting.

McFadden was carried to a straw stack where the mob found they had the wrong man and released him.

LATE RETURNS GIVE OHIO WETS VICTORY

State Prohibition Will Stay —275 Beer Will Not Be Legal.

DRYS ADMIT DEFEAT

Failure to Ratify Federal Amendment Means One Wet Year.

By United Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Complete official returns from eighty-four of eighty-eight counties, today, indicated that the wets won two out of four counties.

Ratification of the national prohibition act by the Ohio Legislature, was defeated by a majority of 16,600. Efforts to repeal state prohibition failed with a dry majority of 30,000, and efforts to legalize 275 beer were voted down by a majority of 25,000. The count in the four remaining counties cannot change the results, both wets and drys agree.

Wets believe that in failing to ratify the federal amendment, constitutional prohibition may be deferred for at least one year.

The defeat of the Crabbe Act leaves Ohio without legislation for enforcement of the state dry act.

MAY HAVE ARMISTICE PARADE

Celebration Depends on Granting Holiday to Students.

Following the announcement yesterday that there would be no celebration in Columbia on Armistice Day, there is a strong sentiment among some of the leading citizens to carry through original plans of a celebration. Some of the persons who have expressed themselves most strongly as in favor of having a celebration are: President James M. Wood, President L. W. St. Clair-Moss, E. W. Stephens, the Elks Lodge, J. B. Cole, W. H. Braselton, John C. Hollaway, I. A. Barth, Berry McAlester, J. P. Hetzler, Frank Rollins, Boyle G. Clark, Ben Nowell, Will Conley and Allen Boulton.

The question of a celebration depends largely upon the action which the president of the University takes in granting a half holiday to University students. Unless a holiday is granted, the members of the R.O.T.C., who were to take part in the parade will be unable to do so.

The president of Christian and Stephens colleges have declared a half holiday so that girls may take part in the parade as they had planned if University students are granted a holiday.

2ND LECTURE ON CITIZENSHIP

The School Has Now a Membership of Eighty-five Women.

The second of a series of lectures in government for School of Citizenship was given yesterday afternoon at the Commercial Club rooms by Prof. R. C. Journey.

The school now has a membership of eighty-five women. The popularity of the courses promises to make it necessary to find larger accommodation for the meetings.

The subject discussed by Professor Journey was "Citizenship in a Federal Government." The speaker defined our federal system. Citizenship from the standpoint of the state, the nation and of international law, and the obligations involved in the status of a citizen were outlined.

ATTACKS SCHOOL SYSTEM

Uel Lamkin Tells of Conditions in the State.

By United Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—"Missouri school system is in a disgraceful condition," Uel W. Lamkin, formerly state superintendent of schools, charged in an address before the convention of Missouri teachers today.

"Missouri was thirty-seventh in educational opportunities," Lamkin said, according to a survey made in 1917. He charged it was a waste of money to pay some teachers in rural schools. He advocated higher wages for better teachers.

George Melcher, of Kansas City, has been nominated for president of the association.

Coach Miller's Young Son Ill.

Mrs. John F. Miller went to Kansas City yesterday, to have her son, John Miller, Jr., examined by a specialist. Coach Miller, who accompanied his wife to Centralia, said today that the baby had not been well for several weeks. Coach Miller said that while he and his wife did not believe that there was anything seriously wrong with the boy, they were simply having him examined by a specialist that they might feel more satisfied about him.

Jewish Students to Meet.

SCHULTE HERE WITH A CRIPPLED ELEVEN

Husker Coach Says 10 of His 25 Players Aren't in Condition.

PROMISES A FIGHT

Miller, Discounting Lincoln Gloom Stories, Hopes for Dry Field.

Henry F. Schulte and the Nebraska football squad, consisting of twenty-five men, ten of whom the "Indian" asserts cannot possibly get in the game, arrived in Columbia today. Among the men whom Schulte feels have no chance to play tomorrow are Kellogg, Dobson, Schellenberg, Hubka, Day, Monty, Munn and McGlasson. All have started the other big Nebraska contests this year.

"I am sorry," said Coach Schulte at the Daniel Boone Tavern this afternoon, "that I can't put in the Nebraska football team all that should go against the Tigers. We can't give the Missouri team the game we should, but I'm sure it will be a contest well worth watching."

Schulte spent most of the morning receiving old University of Missouri friends, among them being many of the prominent Tiger track athletes. The coach does not show any signs of fatigue after what has been undoubtedly the hardest football season he was ever up against. He refused to discuss any of the rumors that have been current about dissatisfaction at Nebraska except to say that he likes the school and feels that he was working with one of the best teams in this part of the country. The lineup, Schulte says, will probably start the game lacking in many of the stars of the Husker eleven.

No Over-confidence Here.

Far from taking at face value the gloom stories emanating from the Cornhusker camp, Coach John F. Miller is expecting to meet the Nebraska team at its best in tomorrow's contest on Rollins Field, and is pointing his Tigers for what he expects to be the hardest game of the season. If the Tigers lose before tomorrow's homecoming throng, over-confidence will not be the reason.

Despite the Lincoln dispatches telling of the wholesale maiming of the Husker stars, Coach Miller does not believe that injuries will handicap Schulte's men any more than the Tigers. His hospital squad still includes Edwards, his star halfback, who will not be able to play Saturday on account of injuries received two weeks ago, while an epidemic of colds, which at first were feared to be influenza, has hurt the Tiger chance. Hardin, center, Forster, halfback, and Sylvester, fullback, are suffering from colds, and although all may play in tomorrow's game, they will not be at their best.

Weather Against the Tigers.

This morning, with the mercury dropping, the field soggy and rain or snow threatening, Coach Miller, believing his men will be handicapped by a heavy field, saw in the weather new reason for apprehension. "Rain will lower the Tigers' chances tremendously," he said. "With the advantage in weight our opponents will have, a wet field will mean an added handicap for Missouri."

"I have seen the Tigers in better shape," the coach continued. "Today they are not in nearly as good condition as when they faced Ames. This epidemic of colds has caused us considerable worry. But we are going to put the best team possible on the field and fight from whistle to whistle."

Taking figures given out in Lincoln as to the weight of the Cornhuskers, the difference in beef will not amount to more than five pounds, with the Huskers on the heavy end. The Tiger coaches, however, are placing little faith in the Nebraska figures and are expecting to have to overcome a weight handicap of at least ten pounds to the man. The Cornhuskers are known to have outweighed the Ames Cyclones Saturday and the Ames team that played here three weeks ago was heavier than the Tigers.

Final Workout Today.

A light workout this afternoon completed the week's preparation for the Huskers. Taking to heart the lesson of the blocked kick that cost the Tigers victory at Norman, the Tiger coaches have been drilling their men in defense for "Chuck" Lewis punts. New formations are also being taught the men, but the Tigers' main reliance in tomorrow's melee is expected to be in the holding power of the Tiger line and Lewis' kicking ability. All practice has been behind barred gates this week, not even newspapermen being allowed within the field.

Optimism pervades town and campus, where a week ago only defeat for the Tigers at the hands of Schulte's big team was forecasted. Tiger followers know that the Huskers of this year are not the dreaded Nebraska aggregation of old, when Halligan, Chamberlain and Rutherford were names to conjure within Valley circles, but they know also that the Husker team that will trot onto Rollins Field tomorrow afternoon is a powerful, desperate machine, capable of and determined to play, 100 per cent better football than they displayed against the Cyclones a week ago.

KEMPER CADETS HERE 3 HOURS

Enroute to Mexico, Mo., to Play Football This Afternoon.

Headed by a band of thirty-five pieces, 474 cadets from Kemper Military Academy marched through the streets of Columbia this morning. Lieutenant-Colonel Bowen was in charge of the corps which was enroute to Mexico where the Kemper football eleven plays its annual game with the Missouri Military Academy team this afternoon. They were in Columbia three hours.

The game at Mexico is considered the hardest of the Kemper schedule and the entire corps is making its annual trip. After the game this afternoon the cadets will stop in Columbia a short time en route home. While here the cadets were served by the University cafeteria.

The football squad of eighteen men did not parade but remained on the train to rest in preparation for the game. Two special trains were required to carry the corps on the trip.

OUR REGRETS

The Missourian regrets that it was not able to accommodate all of its advertisers with space in today's issue. Approximately ten columns of advertising were left out. Several local merchants whose advertising copy reached the Missourian late, unfortunately were unable to obtain space and the size of other advertisements had to be reduced. This was due to a shortage of labor and the scarcity of white paper which exists just at present, a condition, however, which we promise our patrons will be remedied speedily.

343 OF FACULTY JOIN

Red Cross Expects to Enroll Every M. U. Teacher by Next Week.

"The only labor in getting members of the University faculty to subscribe to the Red Cross was in finding them in their offices," said H. Wade Hibbard, chairman of the committee which solicited among the faculty.

Of the three hundred-odd members of the faculty, 341 subscribed as annual members and two took out life memberships. Of the twenty-six workers on the faculty committee, nineteen have made complete reports. It is expected that every University teacher will be enrolled by next week.

The members of the faculty committee are: H. Wade Hibbard, chairman, L. D. Ames, Glenn Babb, Vaughn Bryant, Sidney Calvert, Miss Ruby Cline, E. O. Coe, J. W. Connaway, Miss Fanny Dunlap, Mrs. J. K. Fyter, C. W. Greene, Leonard Haseman, C. A. Helm, P. A. Hogan, Bredelle Jesse, Lieut. Col. L. E. Jones, W. G. Manly, A. C. Ragsdale, Herman Schlundt, Lee Schneider, W. J. Shepard, O. M. Stewart, F. D. Stine, Miss Cecile Stone, Art. M. Tisdell, E. A. Trowbridge and M. P. Weinbach.

A partial report has been turned in by Winifred Warren, president of the district captains who are soliciting among University women. So far, 129 girls have joined, but the list is not complete. They expect to finish their part of the campaign Monday and Tuesday. There will be tables in Academic Hall on those days, when all girls who have not been seen will be given an opportunity to join.

More returned soldiers are needed to help carry out the campaign. Mrs. W. T. Stephenson said this morning she hoped at least twelve former soldiers would volunteer their services in the completion of the drive.

WILL OPEN TUESDAY NIGHT

There will be no tickets sold before that time and the exchanging of tickets from other performances will not be considered.

MAY END TOMORROW

Official Washington Expects Miners and Operators to Open Parley.

CABINET IN SESSION

Injunction to Be Withdrawn When Walk-Out Order Is Recalled.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Wilson's Cabinet is meeting today to take up plans for the settlement of the coal strike. The Indianapolis injunction is to be one of the chief points under discussion, as it is on this that the strike now hinges.

Before the session Attorney-General Palmer talked with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Matthew Wall, vice-president, and F. Morrison, secretary.

After the meeting Palmer said the injunction application will be withdrawn when the strike order is recalled. "Samuel Gompers is waiting at my office," he said.

Official Washington felt the strike would be ended tomorrow, and negotiations would begin between workers and operators.

A new proposal for the settlement of the strike was made by Secretary of Labor Wilson. He refused to discuss the plans. Secretary Wilson, from the first, objected to the use of the injunction method, it was understood. Now he is prepared to point out that, as a means to protect the public against a shortage of fuel, the injunction failed.

Paul Smith and Frank Hughes, personal representatives of John L. Lewis, acting head of the United Mine Workers, are in Washington today to watch developments.

Further steps to economize fuel are being planned by Fuel Administrator Garfield and Walker D. Hines, director-general of railroads.

Cries for more coal are coming in from factories, schools and industries from every part of the country. The nation is burning three times as much fuel as is being produced.

Claims Bolsheviks Caused Strike.

By United Press.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—"Bolsheviks are responsible for the present strike," Thomas Brewster, secretary of the wage and scale committee of the United Mine Workers, declared today.

In a speech before a committee on arrangements for an American Mining Conference convention, Brewster said: "Lenine and Trotsky are furnishing funds for the striking workmen; the gang which has called the miners' strike is representative of only one side of the question."

Expect Move to End Strike Shortly.

By J. L. O'SULLIVAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—A move for the ending of the strike was evidently expected shortly by officials of the miners today.

ROAD DISTRICT AT HINTON

Court Grants Petition of Land Owner There.

The Hinton special road district was organized Wednesday by the county Court upon the receipt of a petition from the land owners of that district. Walter Mitchell, R. M. C. Berry and John Sims, resident land owners within the district, were appointed commissioners. They are to serve until January 6, 1920, when they will appoint three commissioners for one, two and three years.

There are now eight benefit assessment districts in Boone County whose roads are maintained by taxes levied on the land in each district. Columbia, Central, and Sturgeon special road districts are organized differently for they cannot be taxed for the support of their roads.

Red Cross Students Entertained.

The out-of-town women who are in Columbia attending the Red Cross Institute for peace-time workers, were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. D. Eliff last night.
